

I believe that we still need to maintain a diversity of ownership of media sources in order to ensure that companies do not gain complete control over what is broadcast.